

Charlotte Bishop is a Senior Project Manager with Kongsberg Satellite Services (KSAT) a leading Earth Observation service provider and satellite ground station network. She is also the Program Lead for the NICFI Satellite Data Program an initiative funded by Norway's International Climate and Forests Initiative (NICFI) to provide open access to high resolution satellite data across global tropical forest regions with the purposes of reducing and reversing tropical forest deforestation.